The CFAC and its Impact

Hello!

Earlier this summer, we celebrated 35 Years of Service restoring lives impacted by trauma! We'd like to say thank you for choosing to stay in touch: your ongoing support of our organization, whether through donation, volunteerism, advocacy, or sponsorship, allows us to continue offering our services to those in need.

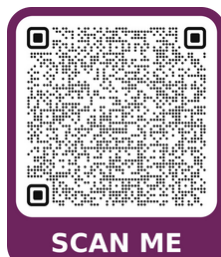

Like many of our neighbors in NWA, our center was impacted by the storm on May 26th. We are beyond grateful for the nearly 150 people, who took of their own time and resources, to assist with clean-up: thanks to their humble service, and the use of our Western Benton County office, we were able to continue seeing clients without interruption. As our center continues to assess our needs going forward, we are grateful for all of those, both individuals, companies, and grantors, who have assisted in our recovery efforts.

Did you know? As part of our ongoing community efforts, members of our staff lead and/or participate in multiple trainings across NWA throughout the year. Our staff brings experience, knowledge, and compassion in all they do both at and away from the center. Trainings are offered at schools, private academic institutions, businesses, and other organizations.

Whether working with clients, volunteers, or our community we, at the Children & Family Advocacy Center, are always committed to providing critical services for those women and children in our community - and beyond - who have been impacted by trauma.
